Banner Image Suggestion

Group of people in a professional yet approachable setting (team meeting, site visit, or mixed professional + casual real-estate context). Alternative: clean architectural photo of a well-maintained multi-unit or commercial building with people using the space.

Professional Image of You

High-quality headshot or three-quarter portrait in business-casual attire against a neutral or lightly branded background. Natural lighting, confident but approachable expression.

Our Story / My Story Paragraph (draft – personalize with your actual background)

Aumni Group was founded on a simple belief: well-selected real estate, professionally managed, can create meaningful value for both the people who use the space and the partners who invest in it. [Your name/background – e.g., “After years in [industry/previous role], I saw an opportunity to combine operational excellence in short-term rentals with disciplined commercial real estate investing.”] Today we focus on acquiring and optimizing properties that generate reliable cash flow while building long-term equity. Transparency, careful underwriting, and hands-on management guide every decision we make.

Banner Image Suggestion

Close-up of a modern desk with a phone or laptop, a clean city/apartment view, or a distinct apartment interior (different from the main property photos) that conveys approachability and professionalism. Soft natural light works best.

Form Check

Share the current contact form fields and I'll review for clarity, required vs optional fields, spam protection notes, and confirmation messaging.

Terms of Service & Privacy Policy

These should be full legal documents. I can draft clear, plain-language starting versions tailored to a real-estate investment + property management site (covering website use, investment inquiries, data collection, cookies, etc.), but they must be reviewed by a lawyer before publishing. Let me know if you want starter drafts.

Next steps I recommend

1. Reply with the specific details I need (apartment specs, your personal/company story, any existing calculator numbers, form fields, location, target returns language you're comfortable using, etc.).
2. Tell me which sections you want refined or expanded first.
3. For images and videos (Short-Term items), we can discuss shot lists and messaging once the written content is locked.

Would you like me to expand any of the above into longer versions, generate alternative taglines, draft the legal starters, or move on to the Short-Term items (video concepts, FAQs, etc.)? Just share the missing facts and preferences and I'll keep building.

Here's a clean, professional logo concept for Aumni Group Inc.

I've generated a modern real-estate focused mark: a refined geometric "A" that subtly suggests a building/roofline, paired with strong typography. The color palette uses deep navy and warm gold for trust and premium feel — ideal for an apartment + commercial investing brand.
